

2003 Index

Academic integrity

Internet Cheaters: Who Are They? Why Do They Do It?
editor (M.C. Lester and G.M. Diekhoff), January, page 4

Active learning

Make Learning Active in and out of Class
Steve Golin, June/July, page 7

Students Get the First Word
Barbara A. Mezeske, October, Page 2

Students Teaching Students Boosts Enthusiasm, Learning
Nicole M. Mazzarella, November, page 1

Teaching Involves More Than Telling, Training
Todd Hamilton, December, page 8

Assignment strategies

Reading Assignments: Can We Persuade Students They Matter?
editor (J. Sappington, K. Kinsey, and K. Munsayac), February, page 3

Learning Journals Engage Students, Develop Critical Thinking Skills editor (D. Varner and S.R. Peck), March, page 8

'Minute' Papers Prove Their Worth Again
editor (B.J. Rogerson), June/July, page 1

Curriculum-Specific Writing Assignments Improve Writing Skills editor (H. Ashbaugh, K.M. Johnstone, and T.D. Warfield), June/July, page 2

Freshmen Can Learn From Project Critiquing Workshops
Reine Dugas Bouton, August/September, page 3

Assignment Choices: Student Responses
editor (L.K. Lewis and P.A. Hayward), December, page 6

Classroom management

Today's Syllabus Fulfills Three Roles
editor (J. Parkes and M.B. Harris), January, page 5

Syllabus Quiz Reduces Misunderstandings Down the Road
editor (P.H. Raymark and P.A. Connor-Green), February, page 2

Effective Preceptoring Takes Advantage of Varying Skill Levels
Ed Antosz, February, page 6

Project Introduces Students to Helpful Resources
Tena L. Golding, April, page 1

Measure the 'Compellingness' of Learning Experiences
Larry Lev and Bill Boggess, June/July, page 3

Faculty Web Pages: Essential Ingredients
D. Palmiter and D. Renjilian, November, page 6

A Helpful Handout for Students
editor (Dembo, M.H.), November, page 2

Course design

Six Strategies to Make Courses More Learner Centered Without Sacrificing Content
editor (M.T. Harris), August/September, page 8

Designing Courses and Assignments That Promote Deep Understanding of Essential Concepts
Jayne Zanglein, October, page 1

Going Bookless — A Liberating Experience
Reine Dugas Bouton, November, page 3

Self-Regulated Learning Revisited
editor (B.J. Zimmerman and S.H. Schunk), November, page 6

Evaluation

Students, Faculty Perceive Student Evaluations Differently
editor (J. Sojka, A.K. Gupta, and D.R. Deeter-Schmelz), January, page 2

Is Grade Inflation a Myth?
editor, March, page 5

Is Assessment Making a Difference?
editor (T.C. Wagenaar), March, page 5

“How’d ja do?” — How Accurate are Students Self Assessments?
 editor (E.J. Kennedy, L. Lawton, and E.L. Plumlee, March, page 7

Contract Grading Options Reveal Level of Student Involvement
 editor (V.L. Benigni, R.A.W. Lariscy, and S.F. Tinkham), April, page 4

Students Formulating Their Own Exam Questions
 Robert M. Gassen, April, page 5

Careless Feedback Discourages, Confuses Students
 editor, June/July page 5

Collaborative Testing: A Method That Maintains Accountability
 editor (M. Lusk, L. Conklin, N. Mitchell, and S. Melton, August/September, page 7

Minute’ Papers Prove Their Worth Again
 editor (B.J. Rogerson), June/July, page 1

Self-Assessment and Peer Assessment: An Intriguing Combination editor (P. Davies), June/July, page 4

Assessing Teaching: Can’t We Do Any Better?
 Editor (L.A. Braskamp), December, page 3

Five Reasons to Use Peer Assessment in Groups editor (D. Willis and B.J. Millis), December, page 4

10 Characteristics of Effective Feedback’ editor (Sergio J. Piccinin), December, page 5

Group work

New Ways to Select Teams: Prof Chooses Team Leaders Who Then Interview Prospective Teammates
 Doris A. Christopher, February, page 1

Research Explores What Makes Successful Groups
 editor (D.R. Deeter-Schmelz, K. Kennedy, and R.P. Ramsey, February, page 4

Facilitating Group Work in a Large Class
 Ken MacMillan, March, page 4

Group Exams: Students Report on the Experience editor (Morgan, B.M.), June/July, page 7

Group Leadership Project Teaches Corporate Skills
 Trish Berg, June/July, page 8

Improvement of teaching

An Integrated Approach to Teaching and Learning Innovations editor (S. Poindexter), April, page 2

Book Review: New and Noteworthy: Evaluating and Improving Undergraduate Teaching in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics editor, April, page 6

Make the Most of the Learning Moment
 Willam A. Reinsmith, December, page 1

Participation

Better Classroom Discussions Are a Collective Skill
 editor (J.A. Hollander), January, page 1

Contract Grading Options Reveal Level of Student Involvement
 editor (V.L. Benigni, R.A.W. Lariscy, and S.F. Tinkham), April, page 4

Personal reflections

Disastrous Teaching Experience at New Institution Teaches Many Lessons
 Juan Tolosa, January, page 3

Teaching Professor Learns Lessons of Being a Student
 editor, March, page 1

Characteristics of Good Teaching: Redux
 editor, March, page 2

Weaning or Encouraging Autonomous Learning
 Larry D. Spence, March, page 6

Classroom Teaching: Can We Learn From Athletic Coaches
 editor (J.M.L. Glenn), May, page 2

Personal Student References Improve Learning
 Todd M. Hamilton, May, page 3

Four Teaching Maxims That Endure
 editor (W.K. McKeachie), June/July, page 6

Debunk These 10 Myths About Teaching and Learning
 Thomas R. Rosebrough, August/September, page 2

What Needs to Change?
 editor, August/September, page 6

First-Year Excitements and Worries
 editor, October, page 4

Why the Scientific Method Matters: A Cautionary Tale
 Daniel J. Klionsky, November, page 4

Five More Ways Sports Coaches Model Good Instruction
 Hal Blythe and Charlie Sweet, November, page 5

Our Stories About Students
 Jim Downton, December, page 4

Student-Centered, But Focused on What?
 Larry Spence, December, page 6

Research on learning

- Class Size and Achievement: Mixed Studies, Mixed Results*
editor (L.S. Toth and L.G. Montagna), January, page 5
- Lecture Notes and Weekly Quizzes: Findings at Odds With Research* editor (T.M. Murphy, V. Cross, and K.A. Haberyan), May, page 4
- Deep vs. Surface Learning*
editor (J. Tagg), May, page 5
- Can't Get Around It — Attendance Counts*
editor (R. Moore), June/July, page 5
- Long-Term Knowledge Retention and Transfer* editor (D.F. Halpern and M.D. Hakel), October, page 3
- Study Aids in Texts: Do They Improve Exam Performance?*
editor (R.A.R. Gurung), October, page 6
- Distinguishing Qualities of Master Teacher Endure*
editor (D.T. Smart, C.A. Kelley, and J.S. Conant), November, page 3
- Why Students Resist Innovative Teaching Methods*
Editor (Mark Benvenuto), December, page 2
- Assignment Choices: Student Responses*
editor (L.K. Lewis and P.A. Hayward), December, page 6

Research/teaching roles

- Part-time Faculty Satisfaction: Not So Grumpy After All*
editor (J.S. Antony and J.R. Valdez), January, page 6
- Better Beginnings: Preparing Students for Independent Research*
Sharon A. Hollander, March, page 3
- Gaining Respect: What We Know About Learning and How We Know It*
editor, May, page 1
- What Needs to Change?*
editor, August/September, page 6

Scholarship of teaching

- Gaining Respect: What We Know About Learning and How We Know It*
editor, May, page 1
- Applying the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning: How Can We Do Better?*
Kathleen McKinney, August/September, page 1

Strategies for the classroom

- Mnemonic Strategies: How to Enhance Memory in the Higher Education Classroom*
Mary Ann Smorra, February, page 5
- Personal Student References Improve Learning*
Todd M. Hamilton, May, page 3
- Freshmen Can Learn From Project Critiquing Workshops*
Reine Dugas Bouton, August/September, page 3
- Six Strategies to Make Courses More Learner Centered Without Sacrificing Content*
editor (M.T. Harris), August/September, page 8
- Lecture Breaks That Involve Students*
editor (L.B. Nilson), October, page 4
- Improve the Feedback That Students Give Each Other*
editor (L. Nilson), October, page 5
- Students Teaching Students Boosts Enthusiasm, Learning*
Nicole M. Mazzarella, November, page 1
- A Helpful Handout for Students*
editor (Dembo, M.H.), November, page 2
- What to do When Students Weep*
Barbara A. Mezeske, December, page 7

Team teaching

- Blended Courses: A New Twist on Team Teaching*
editor (R.H. Seamon and S.A. Spitz), April, page 4

Technology

- Waves of Change: Stages of Technology Adoption* editor (R.L. Celsi and M. Wolfinbarger), April, page 3
- Supporting Faculty Enrichment in the Digital Age*
Paul Baepler, May, page 6
- Do Some Kinds of Learning Happen Only in a Classroom?*
Douglas Hesse, August/September, page 4
- Spaces That Lay Like Nightmares: Student Learning and the Classrooms Where It Doesn't Happen*
Larry D. Spence, August/September, page 5
- Faculty Web Pages: Essential Ingredients*
editor (D. Palmiter and D. Renjilian), November, page 6