

MAGNA SEMINAR SERIES

OCTOBER 19, 2021

Implementing Mindful Online Teaching Using Zoom

Zoom can be a powerful tool for interaction and education, but it can also be a passive and isolating experience.

The methods provided in this Magna Online Seminar will make the synchronous online space more engaging and supportive for student learning and emotional well-being. With the high rates of anxiety and other mental health issues on campus, these strategies can help online teachers build connections with their students, develop a sense of belonging in a sometimes isolating space, and ultimately lessen the anxiety and loneliness students feel.

Upon completion of this program, you'll be able to:

- Use synchronous space more intentionally to support student learning and well-being
- Structure synchronous online lessons that engage students and promote participation
