What Are 5 Ways H5P Tools Can Help Students Retain Course Content?

Through numerous research studies within learning science, we know that interactivity is needed to promote learning in online learning environments. H5P offers both power and simplicity for educators looking to engage students with digital content.

This 20-Minute Mentor covers five ideas for using basic H5P options to help students interact with—and retain— course content. Save time and effort with tools that make interactivity easy to create! Examples of use are provided by the instructor who successfully uses the platform herself.

Upon completion of this program, you'll be able to:

- Identify several H5P tools
- Describe several ways H5P tools can be used to help students engage and learn, including content presentation, practice, and instructions
- Observe interactive elements in H5P, including automatic feedback options
