How Can I Use the Discussion Board to Stimulate Engagement and Build Confidence for First-Year Students?

First-Year-Experience (FYE) faculty seek opportunities to increase student engagement in discussion board threads. However, FYE students hesitate to participate due to different classroom fears. How can faculty get ahead of this curve and affect a greater level of engagement?

To achieve increased success, faculty need innovative approaches. This 20-Minute Mentor delivers this much needed innovation that will make students feel more confident and engaged. Learn all about this innovative strategy which increased discussion board engagement in FYE courses and built writing confidence.

Upon completion of this program, you'll be able to:

- Understand why faculty are often challenged with low student engagement in discussion board threads for first year experience students
- Identify an innovative pedagogical method that correlates with higher student engagement and academic success
- Implement a similar strategy to the one presented as a best practice for increasing student engagement
